

Course Description – Curriculum 2018

Subject: AC421 Seminar in Financial Accounting

Credits: 3

Prerequisite: AC311 and AC312

Description: Definition, objectives, concepts, and evolution of accounting including the problems and issues on code of ethics and external environment such as economic, social, law, tax, etc.; Discussion topics focus on new knowledge or interesting issues, which may vary according to the current environment. Enhancing written and oral presentation skills.